

Sherri Holbert, founder and CEO of Power-Up!, a life success coaching company, uses her endless enthusiasm, energy, and creative ideas to help you plug into your own solution socket and get the results (and POWER) you need to propel your life and career to the next level.

Power-Up! offers a unique opportunity to partner one-on-one with a coach to help you with any goal- whether it's career, health, or family related. Power-Up! also leads energetic group workshops to guide corporations, small businesses, and localized groups such as churches, Chamber of Commerce's, and women's organizations into higher productivity and goal achievement.

PowerUp! provides ongoing support and encouragement along with a plan of action to help you reach your goals.

PowerUp! will show you how to re-energize your life or your company. With the tools and techniques provided, you will gain fresh perspectives on personal challenges and opportunities, develop enhanced decision making skills, and increase your self-confidence to more effectively carry out your life and work goals.

"Let go of the past and go for the future. Go confidently in the direction of your dreams. Live the life you imagined."

- Henry David Thoreau
